The National Rental Affordability Scheme Tenant Consent Form

The National Rental Affordability Scheme ('NRAS' or 'the Scheme') seeks to address the shortage of affordable rental accommodation by offering a National Rental Incentive (the 'Incentive') to providers of new rental dwellings. The Incentive is offered on the condition that dwellings are rented to eligible low and moderate income households at a rate at least 20 per cent below market rates. By requiring a reduction on market rent of at least 20 per cent, the Scheme substantially improves dwelling affordability for tenants.

Tenant Consent Information

You are required to provide this document to prospective tenants. Each prospective tenant who is an adult must sign the Tenant Consent Form prior to entering into any lease or rental agreement for an NRAS property.

Why information is collected?

The Australian Government as represented by the Department gives your housing provider funding to offer affordable rental accommodation to eligible tenants.

Information about you and your household is collected by your housing provider for the Department to ensure your eligibility to rent a property under the National Rental Affordability Scheme and to assist the Australian Government to find out who is accessing its services.

The more the Department can learn about who your housing provider rents their accommodation to will better assist the Australian Government to direct resources to areas of need and improve its services.

What information is collected?

The information listed below is collected from you by your housing provider. By signing this form you are giving permission for your housing provider to give the following information to the Department:

- the length of your lease;
- the number of occupants in your dwelling;
- the ages of occupants;
- the composition of the household;
- sources and details of income earned; and
- occupation details.

The following questions are optional and will not affect your tenancy. If you do answer, the information will help us to continue to improve Australian Government services.

- whether you or anyone in the household identifies as being of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent; and
- whether you or anyone in the household identifies as a person with a disability.

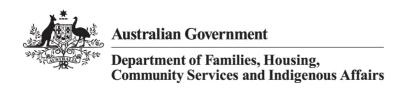

You can ask your housing provider to give you a copy of the information that they have provided to the Department.

Protection of information

Your housing provider and the Department are required, to observe strict privacy rules which are contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). This means that they must:

- tell you why they need to collect your information (i.e. to enable the Department to assess your eligibility to lease an NRAS property and to provide additional information for assessing the rental program);
- tell you what will happen to your information and who it will be given to (e.g. the Department and any other parties the Department determines appropriate to achieve the objectives listed above);
- store the information securely;
- only use the information for the purpose it was obtained; and only pass your information to other parties when the law allows or we are directed to do so.

NRAS TDA v4 Page 1 of 8

The information that is provided to the Department is stored in a secure manner.

The Department sometimes provides information about people who are accessing Australian Government funded services to other Government departments and researchers. When this happens, only limited information is made available and the Department removes all details that could identify you, e.g. your name. This is so no one will be able to identify the information as belonging to you.

The other Government departments and researchers who are given access to the information must also observe the Information Privacy Principles when handling the information. The Australian Privacy Commissioner can investigate allegations of improper collection, use and disclosure of personal information by government departments.

Obligations of your housing provider

Your housing provider must verify that the gross annual income (income from all sources before tax is applied) of all occupants that reside in an NRAS property are within the household eligibility thresholds for your household type. The initial verification must be conducted at the time of entering into the lease or rental agreement, and should be reviewed annually.

Please note that you will cease to be an eligible tenant if the household's combined gross annual income exceeds the income threshold for your household by 25% or more in two consecutive eligibility years.

Your housing provider must ensure that they comply at all times with the landlord, tenancy, building and health and safety laws of the State or Territory and local government area in which the dwelling is located.

Your housing provider must provide an NRAS approved rental property at a rate of at least 20% below the assessed market rent of the property.

Your housing provider may only review the market rent for your property upon entering a new lease or at intervals no more than 12 months for an existing lease. Reviews of market rent must:

- be supported by publicly available data where possible on comparative rental rates in the locale of the dwelling (except in years one, four, and seven where a formal independent written valuation must be obtained); and
- not exceed the percentage change in the NRAS market index of the capital city in the State or Territory in which the dwelling is located.

Your housing provider must keep and maintain all records used to verify your eligibility to lease an NRAS dwelling, methodology for determining market rent and information and details specifically requested by the Department for five years.

NRAS Eligibility Self-Assessment Guide

Properties listed under the National Rental Affordability Scheme (NRAS) must be rented in accordance with the NRAS Act and Regulations, and can only be rented to Eligible Tenants. This guide will assist you in determining if you and your household may qualify.

Self-Assessment Steps:

1. Confirm your household Type

3. Confirm your household eligibility
Total Gross income for the household: $ (You should include the total the income for each person living in the property, including Government allowances/payments received).
What is the income earned by each person residing in the rental property for the last 12 months?
2. Confirm your Gross household income for the last 12 months
Number of Children (under 18 years):
Total Number of Adults: (including yourself)
Who will be permanently living in the rental property with you?

Compare your answers from above, to the table below.

Household composition	Initial household income limit prior to Entering Into a Lease ($)
One adult	47,289
Two adults	65,378
Three adults	83,466
Four adults	101,555
Sole parent with one child	65,423
Sole parent with two children	81,108
Sole parent with three children	96,793
Couple with one child	81,063
Couple with two children	96,748
Couple with three children	112,433

If your household type and income is under the maximum household income for your household type, you may be eligible to rent a NRAS property.

Please note the above is only a guide, and your rental application for a NRAS property will be subject to review by the property manager, NRAS participant and property owner. You will be required to provide satisfactory supporting evidence of the income declared and other demographic information, which will be reviewed and supplied to the Australian Government as required by the NRAS Act and Regulations. Furthermore eligibility is subject to annual review. Furthermore Providence Housing as the NRAS approved participant, does not warrant that you and your household are eligible tenants and/or will be selected as tenants should you apply to rent a NRAS approved property.
